What is No Lost Generation?

The No Lost Generation initiative is an ambitious commitment to action by humanitarians, donors and policy makers to support children and youth affected by the Syria and Iraq crises. It was launched in 2013, and is now in Phase II, which covers the period 2016-2018. Focused on adding value to existing efforts, No Lost Generation is embedded within existing humanitarian plans.

No Lost Generation:

- Provides an overarching regional framework for key areas of the response.
- Provides a platform for joint advocacy on the priorities for children and youth.
- Mobilises resources for sectors at risk of underfunding.
- Calls for the immediate response to be informed by strategic investments for the future.
- Amplifies the voices and perspectives of children, adolescents and youth.
- Links efforts in different sectors to achieve results on issues which cannot be addressed by one sector alone, such as child labour or child marriage.

Who are the No Lost Generation partners?

A regional level working group co-led by UNICEF, Mercy Corps, Save the Children and World Vision includes the following partners: ACTED, ActionAid, CARE, Dan Church Aid, the Danish Refugee Council, Finn Church Aid, Heartland Alliance, Human Rights Watch, ILO, International Medical Corps, Intersos, IOM, the International Rescue Committee, NetHope, The Norwegian Refugee Council, OCHA, Plan International, Relief International, Terre des hommes, UNHCR, UNDP, UNFPA, Un Ponte Per, UNRWA, UN Women, Warchild, WHO, WFP and Y-PEER.

Goals

- Children and youth have access to certified quality education.
- Children, including adolescents, benefit from a protective environment.
- Adolescents and youth are supported to contribute to resilience and social cohesion in their communities.
- In line with national legislation, youth have expanded livelihoods opportunities.

Strategy

- Scaling up the supply of and access to services.
- Strengthening the quality of services.
- Mobilizing and engaging communities in the provision of services and addressing barriers.
- Pushing for policy reform to strengthen national education and child protection delivery systems.

A No Lost Generation Tech Task Force led by NetHope connects private sector expertise and resources, such as technology, with the needs of vulnerable children and youth in No Lost Generation countries. The task force facilitates information sharing and project-based collaborations between private sector companies, UN agencies, NGOs and academic institutions.
